A FEMALE ARRESTED ON A CHARGE OF PETIT LARCENY.—A female named Julia Smith, was last night arrested and lodged in smith, was last hight affected and loaged in the Ninth-street Station-house on a charge of stealing furs to the value of $25, from a store on Fifth-street. When arrested she confessed that she had stolen the articles, and informed the officers where they could She will have a hearing before Judge Lowe to-day.

MAN DROWNED.—A man named Hiram Thorpe, who resided in the Seventeenth Ward, fell from a steamboat lying at the dry-dock, opposite Washington-street, night be-fore last, and was drowned. His body was found yesterday morning near the spot where he had fallen into the water, and a coroner's inquest held, and a verdict in accordance with the above facts rendered. He was about thirty-five years of age, and unmarried.

DAILY SESSION OF THE COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.—The County Commissioners yesterday passed the following orders:

Total... A communication was received from the Trustees of Sycamore Township, stating that the bridge over Millcreek, in the north-west part of the township, had fallen down, and asking that it be rebuilt immediately.

ADAMS'S EXPRESS COMPANY-A Successful Experiment.-Adams's Express Company have our thanks for newspapers almost daily, which they are in the habit of sending to us most punctually, and in advance of the mail. So constantly are they ahead of Uncle Sam's tardy conveyance, that no one would sup-pose they ever could be behind; to disprove which, we presume they have recently been furnishing us with papers three or four hours after the delivery of our mails at the office. Our skepticism is removed: the effort of the Company has been successful, and if they have no objection, we will be willing, henceforth, to receive their favors as usual. Many good remembrances, gentlemen, for the past, and good wishes for the future.

Extrasive Therr of Jewelay—Commit-ment of the Alleged Culprit.—About a year since an itinerant jewelry-vender was rob-bed of articles, consisting of watches, rings, lockets, &c., to the value of $440, while stop-ping at a public house in Harrison Town-ship, kept by a man named Valentine Heil; ship, kept by a man named Valentine Heil; and, although suspicion was directed toward a young man named William Mentley, nothing transpired until within a day or two ago which would authorize his arrest. On Friday last, however, some of the jew-elry was found, and Mentley arrested. On Saturday he was examined before Esq. Ash-ley, of the township in which the crime was committed, and held over in the sum of $500 committed, and held over in the sum of $500 for his appearance at the next term of the Court of Common Pleas. Being unable to find a bendeman, he was committed to jail.

CUTTING AFFRAY.—A cutting affray oc-curred near the corner of Second street and Broadway, on Monday morning last, in which a German barber, named John Meyers, received several gashes in the head, which, though severe, are not dangerous. By the statement of the wounded man, we learn that he, in company with a friend, had visited a number of drinking-houses during the night, and partaken freely, until both be-came inebriated. While in this condition, came incbriated. While in this condition, the parties engaged in a quarrel, but how it originated he has no recollection; it ended, however, in an affray, in which Meyers, after having received several stabs, was left senseless upon the pavement. The policeman who discovered him supposed him to be in a dying condition, and carried him to the Hammond-street Station-house, when Dr. J. C. Beck was called in. Upon examination, however, his wounds were found not to be fatal.

When he returned to consciousness was questioned as to the perpetrator of the act, but refused to reveal his name, stating that he was a friend, and that the affray was the result of intoxication, and, therefore, the party should not be held responsible. School Board—Iroccedings Last Night— The Board met at the usual hour hast night; President King in the Chair. The minutes

A remarkable scene was witnessed by a boat's crew belonging to the island of West-ray, about a fortnight ago. As Gavin Mowat and his boat's crew were engaged fishing for cod, about six miles from land, to the eastward of Noup Head, they observed a large whale running rapidly toward their boat. In a little while there was a violent commotion. The whale leaped about six feet clear out of the water, when they observed that a

When it passed, the whale was puffing so feebly that he seemed literally gasping for broath, and the men felt certain that it must have died in a short time.— Orkney Herald.

SUICIDE OF A MERCHANT FROM PAILURE IN SUICIDE OF A MERGEART FROM FAILURE IN BUSINESS.—A melancholy case of suicide occurred recently, at Bloomington, Illinois, in which Thomas Sherry took his life by cutting his throat. Mr. B. formerly resided in Chicago, and was extensively known and admired both in mercantile and social circles, where he attracted troops of friends by his genial qualities and gentlemanly address. Broken up in trade by the crisis, he went to California, thence returned to Chicago, and had lately been in the amploy of a New had tately been in the employ of a New

Additional Monetary.

Last week's St. Louis Bank-statement shows a fair gain in maturing Exchange—the increase being $135,848 this week—but a heavy loss in Coin, or a decrease of $63,559 since last Saturday, the Merchants' Exchange and State Banks being the largest losers. This is owing, says the Democraf, to the heavy assorting of branch Money by the brokers, causing the parent Banks to have to supply their branches with Coin to keep in line, and owing, also, to the amount of Gold absorbed by the sub-treasury in furnishing Exchange to the Banks.

Exchange is in good demand in St. Louis, the supply being rather short of the demand, at the rates heretofore noted, of 1 premium for Eastern, and ¾ for New Orleans, at which it was firm. The scarcity of Currency and Bankable Funds is still a subject of complaint. Of Currency, amounts have been sent to Chicago since the fall in rates there, which has diminished the supply in St. Louis. Last week's St. Louis Bank-statemen published in the New Bedford Mercury, appears the following expression of opinion:

"Different opinions prevail as to the cause of whales sinking. Some say that it is all foolishness to sink a whale, and that they can sink any whale with one lance, which I do not believe. Others say that by firing bomb-lances in them it will make them float—that I have thoroughly proved to be incorrect, unless it should require a boat lost. I have had five and six lances fired into a whale, which biged and then went down like a stone. But I find those that pretend to know so much about sinking whales, and how to prevent it, have sunk whales themselves. It is perfectly absurd for a man because he has been fortunate in striking floating whales, to pretend that it atriking floating whales, to pretend that it was his extra skill in knowing how to kill them which caused their floating. I have had a whale float half an hour and then sink; and I have seen them float one hour and then sink so heavy that three boats could not hold them up.

in the onset. The advocates of the present routes con-tended that Kemper-lane would be impass-able for omnibuses at least two months of the year, as the grade was so steep that dur-ing the winter no one could ride down with-out danger to life. They said that people were used to the present routes—that the drivers were accommodating, and that to make the proposed change would disarrang things entirely, and that it was better to le them stand as they are, than to run the risks which must be incurred of a constant con-nection with the railroad.

The friends of the change dwell upon the disagreeable odor they were compelled to encounter when riding up Deercreek Valley, and agreed that, aside from this, a great amount of time would be gained, as the cars move more rapidly than the omnibuses.

After a long discussion the following resistance were adopted: lutions were adopted:

Meeting of the Citizens of Walnut Hille-Omnibus and Ratiroad Connection with the City.
The subject of establishing a feasible communication with the city has periodically agitated the citizens of Walnut Hills for several years past, and public meetings, to take some measures to facilitate matters, have been held semi-annually, but with results not the most flattering.

For a considerable length of time two lines of omnibuses have made regular trips between points on the Hills and the central between points on the Hills and the central parts of the city, and although these omnibuses have afforded every facility of which such vehicles are capable, they have hardly been equal to the demands of the public.

Last night another meeting, to take the subject into consideration, was held at the old store church, near the junction of the Madison and Montgomery Roads, and the proceedings show a determination, on the part of the residents of Walnut Hills, to effect something which will relieve them from fect something which will relieve them from the inconveniences to which they are now subjected-inconveniences which arise, not from the bad management of the omnibus companies, but from other sources. The meeting was organized by the appoint-ment of Issac C. Cowpland as President, and Jas. C. Caldwell, as Secretary. As soon as the meeting was organized, Mr. F. B. Howells presented the following communication from Chas, Kilgour, President of the Pendleton and Fifth-sweet Mar-
